Wanted you to be aware of this as once again the CDC name is coming into play on these hydrogen sulfide matters.

As you will recall levels of Hydrogen Sulfide at hand have been alleged to be in excess of their maximum allowable levels. Again I have no idea if EPA has a so called go-between POC with CDC that might be able to expand on this issue and what the real deal is.

Needless to say I am troubled at this statement in the letter below..... if it is indeed true?????????

The city has paid him 10,000 dollars to tell the CDC that the levels allowable on Marco Island should be higher than have been established for the rest of the country.
